THE TOBACCO MARKETS

Up to yesterday approximately 250,000 pounds of pooled tobacco had been received at the Paris warehouses of the Burley Marketing Association. This tobacco has been securely stored on the floors, under the supervision of Manager John M. Clay and his assistants.

Manager Clay announces that he had been instructed to increase the cash advance to members of the Association when their tobacco is delivered. The advance applies to practically every grade. Farmers who have already delivered their tobacco and received an advance will be mailed the difference in the advance they received and the present price from the home office in Lexington.

With the delivery of part of the 1922 crop before the holidays money should loosen up considerably for Bourbon county growers. With every indication that the final payment on the 1921 crop will be made early in January and with prospects of practically all of the 1922 crop being sold by the Association in winter order, assuring an early payment, Bourbon county farmers, as well as all other farmers throughout the Burley belt, are facing the greatest era of prosperity in several years. No other agency has meant so much to the farmer as the Co-operative Burley Tobacco Marketing Association.

PARIS YOUTH SHOTS CHUM ACCIDENTALLY

While playing with an "unloaded" revolver, Patterson Gordon, 17 years old, shot and instantly killed his chum, George Sheets, 17, at the latter's home, in Lexington, shortly before 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. The bullet struck Sheets just under the chin and ranged upward, lodging in the base of the brain.

Young Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gordon, of Paris, has been making his home with his chum at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Sheets, 947 West High street, for the last several years. The boys had gotten up and dressed and were lying on the bed waiting the call to breakfast. The gun had evidently worked its way from underneath Sheets' pillow and young Gordon picked it up. He thought it unloaded and playfully pulled the trigger, according to the story told between sobs to County Judge E. H. Doak. Young Gordon was arrested and turned over to Judge Doak because of his age.

Sheets' father, a car inspector for the Louisville & Nashville railroad, told Judge Doak it was an accident and asked that young Gordon be released. The County Judge thereupon let Gordon go.

When his chum was shot, Gordon said, he did not think him hurt seriously.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the John Milward funeral home. Burial in the family lot in the Lexington Cemetery.

XALAPA FARM STRING GOES TO NEW ORLEANS

Secretary Joseph McLennan, of the New Orleans Fair Grounds, was handed telegraphic advice that Missionary, Bon Homme and six others of the Xalapa Farm stables, in charge of Trainer Roy Waldron, would be shipped from Bowie on Friday. Manager James M. McClelland has shipped Lucky Hour to Xalapa Farm, near Paris, to winter. Lucky Hour came out of his Thanksgiving Handicap engagement in a bad way.

COURT NEWS

In the Eastern Kentucky District Court, at Richmond, Federal Judge A. M. J. Cochran issued a rule in the case of L. B. Sapp vs. Co-operating Land and Development Co., against all stock subscribers, who had failed to comply with the decree issued from his Court, entered on August 25, 1922, requiring said persons to show cause why the action of Receiver C. C. Bosworth in declaring the entire amount of said assessment be made immediately due and payable, should stand. This rule cited all stockholders who have failed in paying this assessment to appear in his Court at Catlettsburg yesterday.

Ed Franks, colored, who was arrested near Paris, by Deputy Sheriff Gilkey, on a warrant from Woodford county, charging him with forgery, was given a hearing in the Woodford County Court, Tuesday, before County Judge R. S. Hawkins. Franks was charged with having "raised" a check for $5.00, given him by J. R. Baumgartner, of Versailles, to $25.00. He was held to the grand jury in $300 bond, in default of which he was sent to jail.

Ernest Fox, colored, who was arrested last week by Deputy Sheriff R. M. Gilkey on a charge of having forged the name of Walker Buckner, Bourbon county farmer, to two checks, was given a hearing Tuesday in the County Court before Judge George Batterton. Fox was held to the grand jury on $250 bond. Being unable to furnish this he was sent to jail.

While en route to a physician's office Tuesday afternoon, in charge of Jailer J. E. Taylor, John Morris, charged with stealing an automobile from Nathan Linville, of near Paris, escaped from that official while at the corner of Main and Second streets, running out Second street. Jailer Taylor fired five shots at the fleeing man, but it was thought none took effect. Morris had been tried and held to the grand jury at the March term of the Bourbon Circuit Court. He served a term in the State Reform School.

Burris and George Hensley, brothers, of Ashland, who were indicted by the November grand jury, charged with taking an automobile belonging to John A. Bower, chief clerk to Supt. J. A. Morrison, of the L. & N., were arrested in Ashland by the Sheriff of Boyle county, and brought to Paris. They gave bond for their appearance at the March term of the Bourbon Circuit Court and were released from custody.

John T. Hedges, who was named as executor of the estate in the will of the late Mrs. Laura Wright Bayless, accepted the trust, and qualified by furnishing bond in the sum of $30,000, with Chas. C. Clarke, of North Middletown, as surety. Mrs. Bayless designated her friends Mrs. Amos Turney, Sr., Mrs. R. P. Dow, Sr., and Miss Annie Wright to take charge of her personal and household effects until Mr. Hedges directs their disposition, as directed in the will.

POSTMASTERS PREPARE FOR RUSH OF SANTA CLAUS

"Wrap well, mail early!" This now familiar Christmas slogan of the postoffice department already has started across. Expecting an extra heavy Christmas business this season, department officials are warning postmasters to lay their plans early.

So well has the postoffice service been organized of late years that no new methods will be tried this year. Postmasters whose "patronage" is so large that greatly augmented working staffs are needed, have been directed to give first preference to men with families, and those long out of a job.

Christmas always costs Uncle Sam between four and five million dollars for extra clerks, carriers, transportation facilities and renting of extra quarters.

MAJ.-GEN. WINN RETIRED

Major-General Frank Long Winn confirmed to that rank permanently by the Senate, has been retired, the war department has announced.

General Winn is a native of Kentucky. He was born at Winchester in 1864, attended Centre College two years and graduated from the United States military academy at West Point in 1886.

He saw service in the Indian congress, the Spanish-American war, in the Philippine insurrection, the punitive expedition into Mexico and the World War. He served as divisional commander in the American Expeditionary Forces, commanding the 89th division.

The world has an uncanny way of finding out whether a man is genuine or spurious.

REAL ESTATE DEALS

The real estate firm of Harris, Speakes & Harris sold Wednesday at public auction the four-room cottage and lot belonging to Mrs. Edward Hall to Mrs. Etta Soper, for $3,010. Possession of the property will be given in thirty days. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will move to Covington to reside.

The sale of new bungalows recently erected in January Court, a new subdivision of Paris, by Dr. D. S. Henry, held Tuesday, realized satisfactory prices for the six pieces which went under the auctioneer's hammer. A large crowd attended the sale, despite the severe weather, and the bidding was spirited, showing there is a healthy demand for well-located property in Paris. The houses sold Tuesday are all of modern design, with modern conveniences, and are well-arranged in all respects. The purchasers and the prices paid were as follows:

No. 1—Charles Bowman, $2,400.
No. 2—Charles Bowman, $2,425.
No. 3—Horace Bartlett, $2,400.
No. 4—Mrs. Bobbie Burns, $2,450.
No. 5—Jake Elvove, $2,200.
No. 6—Jake Elvove, $2,305.
No. 7—Bid to $1,750 and withdrawn.

Dr. Henry recently bought for the Home Builders' Association of Paris ten nice building lots in White Addition to Paris, on which the Association will at once erect several bungalows. In the future the houses will be sold privately, according to a statement made by Dr. Henry.

KENTUCKY'S AVERAGE TAX RATE IS $1.064

The average county tax rate for Kentucky for 1922 for the general revenue, school and road purposes is $1.064, according to an announcement made by the State tax commission. Jackson and Owen counties, with rates of $1.45 each, have the highest rate, while Clark county, with a 62 cent rate, has the lowest.

Woodford is next to the lowest with a rate of 63 cents. Fayette and Franklin counties have rates of $1.20 each and Jefferson county, outside of the city limits, has a rate of 95 cents.

In addition to the county rate, each county must pay a 40-cent State rate. Most of the money paid for taxes is spent locally as for every $1 given to the State, the county gets $2.66 for local purposes.

FIRE IN JAIL

Wednesday afternoon about three o'clock, during the temporary absence of Jailer Taylor, his family heard a commotion among the prisoners on the second floor, and thinking there was a riot or an attempted jail delivery, called the police. Chief of Police Link and Patrolman Lusk responded, and upon an investigation, discovered a pile of old bedding that had been stored temporarily in an old unused cell was on fire, filling the cells and corridors with a thick smoke. They extinguished the flames, which were supposed to have been caused by a lighted cigarette carelessly thrown in the cell by one of the prisoners. The prisoners were assured there was no further danger, and quiet was resumed.

A TEXAS DUCK STORY

Clifford Harris, 14, was riding along a country road, near Marshall, Texas, on his bicycle. A large flock of ducks were flying overhead. Curiosity apparently impelled them to make a closer inspection of the moving object beneath. They swooped down so close to the boy that he reached up and grabbed one by the leg. In spite of the duck's struggles the boy held on and took his captive home, where he plans to cross it with some of the tame variety.

GRAVE OF CAPT. FITCH

(Bardstown Standard)

In an old cemetery in Bardstown behind the Nelson county jail, lies the remains of Capt. John Fitch, inventor of the steamboat. Only an insignificant slab of marble, presented by the war department of the United States, marks his resting place, an unworthy memorial to one who rendered so great a service to his country. He came from Philadelphia to Kentucky and thence to Bardstown, where he invented and tried out his first model of the steamboat on an old pond which occupied the ground where the post-office now stands. He ended his life in July, 1793.

NO COUNTY AGENT FOR BOURBON

By a vote of 4 to 3 the Bourbon Fiscal Court, at their recent meeting, turned down the proposition submitted by the Extension Department of the University of Kentucky to engage a County Agent for the county.

C. U. Jett, farm management expert from the College of Agriculture of the University, has been in this county for the past three months collecting data from the farmers to be embodied in a statistical report on the county's resources. Mr. Jett found a very decided sentiment among the farmers in favor of a County Agent, and so informed the Extension Department of the University.

Thompson Bryant, chief of the Extension Department of the University, was present before the November session of the Fiscal Court at the invitation of Magistrate R. H. Burris, and explained the plan of the County Agent work. Action was deferred until the December meeting.

CAR TURNS OVER

The coupe driven by Mrs. Jack Owings, of Mt. Sterling, skidded as she was returning from town and overturned. Mrs. Owings, who was alone in the car at the time, escaped uninjured. The accident occurred near the home of George Hamilton, when Mrs. Owings attempted to drive past two wagons. The car was badly damaged. Mrs. Owings is well-known to many Paris people, who congratulate her upon her escape from serious injury.

LEASES NASHVILLE HOTEL

Woodson Moss, for the past fifteen years manager of the Brown-Proctoria Hotel in Winchester, with D. R. Lindsay and W. J. Farrell, of Louisville, have leased the Tulane Hotel of Nashville, Tenn., for a period of twenty years. They will take possession the first of the year, with Mr. Moss as resident manager. This hotel is one of the leading hostleries of Nashville.

Extensive remodeling is being done to the building. Mr. Moss has been the president of the Kentucky Hotel Men's Association for several terms.

It's a long lane that has no garage.

PARIS PAGEANT POSTPONED

At a meeting of the Paris Community Service organization, held in the court house, it was decided to postpone the pageant, "The Light of the World," which had been planned as a Community Christmas entertainment for Paris. The promoters came to the conclusion that there was not enough time to prepare for so extensive an entertainment for a sufficiently large number of those present. Representatives were present from all the Protestant churches. It was suggested that the pageant might be used for Easter.

Dr. M. H. Dailey, who has been president of the Community Service since its organization two years ago, made the announcement of his resignation, which was in the form of a letter to the Board of Directors, to take effect the first of the coming year. He stated that his action was prompted by the lack of time to devote to the work. The organization voted to decline to receive the resignation, and asked Dr. Dailey to reconsider.

EDITORIAL FLINGS

It has just been discovered that some newspaper men, writers, and a few authors have salaries almost as large as Babe Ruth's. But such injustices are bound to occur now and then.

Seemingly the American colony of Kuzbas in Siberia would be a model of its kind if somebody should run a wall around it, put a roof over it, and let the label "Lunatic Asylum" tell.

Henry Miller and Ruth Chatterton are appearing in a play called "Tenderness." A novelty, most decidedly, in a period of familiarity with tenderloin drama of whit-leather toughness.

Every good Paris citizen ought to make an honest "holier" against things that are not right. But, at the same time, they should be careful not to develop the habit of believing that everything is all wrong.

Vidæe Soudder says that most of the great things of life come out of poverty. Maybe so; yet many newspaper men would like to trade a little of the chance for greatness for a few thick beefsteaks and a double-thick mattress.

A stock dividend of 900 per cent. declared by a refining company in Philadelphia cause the farmer to meditate upon the opportunities of cities as he fills a silver tank with gasoline to go to town to pay the interest on a mortgage.

That Louisville girl who told the Judge she would be willing to sell herself to a husband for $5,000, agreeing to be a dutiful wife, should ponder this axiom of the automobile owners: "It isn't the purchase price, but the maintenance cost that counts."

Now lest you forget, remember that the better part of discretion is to "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early." And even better, do your Christmas shopping early. Some young men have a habit of getting "cold feet" as the glad Christmas time approaches, and find some convenient excuse for "falling out" with the girl he has been playing steady company to all the previous months.

The year 1922 is rapidly drawing to an ending, but its memories will never end. The days have become a part of the fabric of living, and they are more beautiful in the united pattern than they were in the individual glory of separateness. They never wholly and surely belong to us until we have put them safely away with the treasures of the past.

While you are keeping yourself as warm as you can with the various sorts of fuel that are available, it will interest you to know that the United Mine Workers are setting aside $2,000,000 with which to finance the coal strike that they now expect to call next spring. The agreement of the past fall was but a temporary one and the miners have by no means given up their determination to force the unionization of all the soft coal fields. They have already informed President Harding's coal commission that upon no other terms is any peaceful solution of the country's coal problem possible.

According to an estimate by the National Educational Association, the teacher's salary for 1922 is on the average only about $1,000. In some places, especially the cities, teachers' salaries have increased, but in some of the rural districts they have been reduced. Many thousands of the country teachers find themselves worse off than they were in 1913.

Christmas is close at hand. While you are meditating on what to send an absent friend, remember one of the most gracious gifts you could make would be a year's subscription to THE NEWS, Bourbon's premier newspaper. One hundred and four semi-weekly newspapers from the old home place to some one who has been away from Paris for many years would be "mighty lak a gift, shorely." Study over this.

ASSESSMENT OF RAILROADS INCREASED IN KENTUCKY

Assessments of railroads operating within Kentucky were raised $21,007,575 this year by the State Tax Commission, according to a report issued by Rainey T. Wells, chairman. The total valuation of the lines operating in the State is $177,828,826, of which $52,594,559 represents the franchise value, according to the report.

The railroad assessment was completed with the final agreement on the assessment of the Southern Pacific Company. The franchise value of this road tax commission and the tangible value was left the same as last year. The present franchise value of the road is $8,000,000, according to the report.

The assessed valuation of the tangible property of the 56 lines operating in Kentucky was placed at $125,234,264, an increase of approximately $13,000,000 over the property valuation last year. The franchise valuation increase was made up more than one-half by the raise on the Southern Pacific.

YOUNG PEOPLE INTERESTED

The fact that a Lincoln county boy recently sold a steer for more than $1,000 is evidence of the success of the movement to interest young people of Kentucky in better agriculture and livestock. The movement is promoted by the University of Kentucky and the State Department of Agriculture.

Junior Agricultural Clubs have been organized in many counties of the State and farm boys and girls are vying with their elders in producing higher standards of field products, livestock and poultry. Activities for the boys are divided into beef cattle clubs, pig clubs and corn clubs.

The College of Agriculture of the State University and the county farm agents keep in close touch with juvenile farm activities, and extend helpful service to young farmers and stockmen. Although the junior agricultural movement is in its infancy in Kentucky, its sponsors declare that already it has been a success and shows prospects of continued enlargement.

GOVERNOR UNAWARES

Only twice since the adoption of the present State constitution have Lieutenant Governors succeeded to the governorship in Kentucky, Wm. Goebel, the only Governor who died in office, was succeeded by Lieut. Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, in 1900, and in 1919, Lieut. Gov. Jas. D. Black automatically became Governor when A. O. Stanley qualified as United States Senator.

Other lieutenant governors in that time served as acting governors only for brief intervals during the absence of the the Governor beyond the confines of the State. As soon as the Governor crosses the State line his functions cease and the duties of the office devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor until the Governor again enters the State.

The second in succession to the Governorship is the president protem of the State Senate, but few of these have exercised into functions of acting governor. In 1910 President Proteom Conn Linn posed as governor for a few hours while Governor Willson and Lieutenant Governor Cox were both out of the State. President Proteom Thomas A. Combs and President Proteom C. M. Harris each presided as acting governor for a week during the absence of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor who were out of the State.

Being governor and not knowing it was the experience of Senator M. O. Scott, of Menifee county, president protem of the upper branch. It was in 1914, when Gov. James B. McCreary and Lieut. Gov. E. J. McDermott were on a campaign train that crossed over to Cairo, Ill., to turn around, that Mr. Scott was Governor for a half hour, but was unconscious of the honor.

BURNED BALLOTS PROBLEM

When the secret ballot law was first enacted in Kentucky it provided that the unused be preserved the same as those that had been voted, but several years afterward the law was changed to allow the destruction of the unused ballots by the officers of election after the polls closed. This is the system that obtains at present.

As a consequence of the change in the law, many irregularities occurred at the succeeding election all over the State. Like other election regulations the change was not well understood by many election officers and as a result not only the unused but the voted ballots were burned and in some cases every vestige of the election was unwittingly destroyed.

With nothing tangible at hand on which to base a return, election officers in many precincts saved their faces by agreeing on the figures, thus avoiding censure if not prosecution for destroying the ballots.

With the ballots destroyed and the precinct return depending on a "gentleman's agreement," an opportunity for sharp practice was afforded that was taken advantage of in many cases with the result that often the precinct returns in nowise reflected the true vote as recorded by the voters who exercised their suffrage.

JEALOUSY OUSTS GUARD

Many cities of the country have private, independent military organizations, some of which have existed uninterruptedly from the early days of the Republic. Louisville had one once, but the outfit was legislated out of commission and forced to disband.

The famous Louisville Light Infantry was organized about thirty years ago as an independent military and social organization after being mustered out as a unit of the Louisville Legion regiment of the Kentucky State Guard. The Light Infantry command included a member of nearly every family of social importance in Louisville, and it was known all over the United States. Patterned after the Montgomery Grays, Vicksburg Shorthorns and other time-honored military bodies, it won many prizes in competitive drills. Its distinctive uniform and soldierly precision riveted attention wherever it appeared.

Whatever may have been the real reason, the downfall of the organization has been attributed to the jealousy of the State Guard unit. In any event, a legislative enactment was invoked that sounded the deathknell of independent military organizations in Kentucky. The outlawed command sought to evade the force of the enactment by tendering its services to the city of Louisville as special police, but it did not avail.

In the passing of the command Louisville lost the opportunity to be known as the home of a famous independent military organization planned on permanent and exclusive lines.

WAR MEMORIAL NEXT

Kentucky must eventually erect fitting memorials to its heroic dead that fell in the World War. One of the most pretentious memorial projects is in the hands of the Kentucky Council of Defense; though started three years ago, its work has been delayed.

The Defense Council plans an ornate $300,000 memorial structure to be erected on the campus of the University of Kentucky, at Lexington. Of the sum required about $190,000 has been subscribed, including $100,000 guaranteed by Lexington business men after a bond issue for a like amount authorized by the voters of the city had been declared invalid by the courts. Promoters purpose to make a drive for the remainder of the fund early in the coming year and to rush the memorial to completion.

In deciding to locate the building on the grounds of the State University, promoters believed that such a tribute would be a perpetual object lesson in patriotism and an inspiration to the youth of Kentucky.

ENDURANCE RACE

Some years ago an effort was made to revive long-distance racing and encourage the breeding of the thoroughbred for endurance.

Racing associations featured a four-mile race in the fall, when the horses were better conditioned to go the longer route, but after a couple of years the feature was discontinued.

Races at four miles were not uncommon in the old days of the turf, and it was at this distance that the famous match between Ten Broeck, Kentucky, and Molly McCarty, California mare, was run at Churchill Downs, July 4, 1878. The race, which was won by the Kentucky entry, attracted thousands of turfites from all over the country, and the performance leads all others in American turf reminiscences.

TO ATTEND BIG SALE

Arthur B. Hancock, master of Claiborne Farm, near Paris, will attend the great sale of forty fine mares from the Haras du Quesnay Stud, established by William K. Vanderbilt, and now owned by A. K. Macomber, which will be held in New York, to-night.

This is said to be one of the most remarkable band of mares ever offered for sale publicly. They are by the most noted French, English and American sires, and are from producing families. They are bred to the most fashionable sires in Europe. Among the stallions represented are Maintenenon, Hollister, Star Hawk, Sea Sick, Prestige, McKinley, War Cloud and Gibbs.

The sale will be conducted by Auctioneer John Bain, of Lexington, under the supervision of C. J. Fitzgerald, as agent for Mr. Macomber.

BASKETBALL AT THE "Y"

The second game on the "Y" schedule will be played here to-night with the first team from the Lexington Y. M. C. A. Lexington "Y" boasts a well trained squad that has played together for several seasons, losing very few games since their organization, and who are coming to Paris determined to keep up a long record of wins. The Paris "Y" team since their defeat by Georgetown College by an eyelash, have smoothed over a few rough spots, and with the aid of Basil Hayden, who will coach them for the remainder of the season, are out to make a few ambitious teams eat much dirt.

While the schedule is not as yet fully completed, games have been arranged with such teams as Lawrenceburg, Frankfort, Covington and Cynthiana, an equal number to be played at home and abroad. The fans who witnessed the melee between Paris and Georgetown last Friday pronounced it one of the most interesting exhibitions they had ever seen, and the "Y" gym should be packed with rooters for the game to-night.

—A conference of the Christian Endeavor of the Sixth District, composed of representatives from the societies of Bourbon, Woodford, Franklin, Harrison, Scott and Anderson counties, will be held at the Central Christian church, in Lexington, Sunday afternoon. The conference, which will be in charge of C. F. Evans, of the Southern Christian Endeavor organization, will deal with the work of the Endeavor societies of the district and in the South and the part which the Sixth District has in the State program. Supper will be served in the church after the afternoon program. A union Christian Endeavor prayer meeting will be held at 6:15 p. m.

—First Baptist Church, Rev. L. S. Gaines, pastor, Sunday, December 17—9:30 a. m., Bible school, classes for all ages; 10:45 a. m., Morning Worship, sermon by pastor, subject, "Give Ear, The Lord Hath Spoken;" 2:30 p. m., Meeting of Census Committee, at the church; 6:00 p. m., B. —Rev. W. S. Scantland, who recently moved from Paris to Mt. Sterling, has been holding a revival meeting at Farmers, Ky. Up to Sunday, December 10, there had been thirty additions to the church, twenty-nine for baptism. Rev.

Scantland had to go to Howards Mill, in Montgomery county, to fill an appointment and will return to Farmers, to-day and preach to-night, Saturday night and Sunday. He will administer the rite of baptism Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. This is considered a record meeting, as the church there only had seven members when Rev. Scantland began his meeting. Rev. Scantland was ordained last Friday night at the Farmers church, in the presence of a large crowd. Rev. Tamm, of Maysville, and Rev. Matthews, of Ewing, assisting in the services.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

—The services Sunday morning will be a special service for "shut-ins." All those who have been handicapped by advanced years, sorrow or sickness are cordially invited to make a special effort to attend this service. The subject of the sermon is "God's Shut-Ins." Mr. Sam Willis is in charge of arranging for transportation for any who would wish to come. He will be glad to arrange for a car to call for any who will notify him. The quartette with its delightful music will help to make this a memorable service. At a meeting of the session last Sunday night it was decided that this congregation worship with the Baptist people Sunday night, in honor of the coming of their new pastor, so there will be no service at the evening hour. Hours of service: Preaching 10:55 a. m.; Sunday School 9:30 a. m.; Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. Everybody welcome.

MARY MILES MINTER MAY GO INTO SPOKEN DRAMA

The impending retirement of Mary Miles Minter from photoplays of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation and her prospective return to the stage of spoken drama was announced recently by Jesse L. Lasky, of the corporation, following an announcement from the New York office of the film producing company that her contract would not be renewed.

"The contract of Mary Miles Minter was for a certain number of pictures the last of which is that upon which she at present is engaged," said Lasky.

"I understand that Miss Minter has made her plans for an appearance in the spoken drama."

DOUBLE FEATURE DAY AT THE MOVIES

The two feature attractions for to-day at the Alamo and Grand are Viola Dana, in her latest Metro picture, "Glass Houses," and Kathryn McDonald, in "Her Social Value." Don't miss either one. They are both winners.

For Saturday, the feature will be Chas. (Buck) Jones, in a dashing Western play, "Rough Shod." This new play of Jones' is very unusual, in that it has two heroines, played by Helen Ferguson and Ruth Renick. The feature is a fine presentation of ranch life, and is a thriller in every sense of the term. Jane Novack and Roy Stewart will appear at the Alamo and the Grand Monday afternoon and night in a great production, "The Snowshoe Trail." It is very doubtful if there has ever been developed a bigger sensation on the screen than "The Snowshoe Trail," which at times attains the proportions of a four-act dramatic smash.

ANOTHER WORLD WONDER

With Onyx Cave, a cavern rivaling Mammoth Cave, Kentucky has another world wonder to interest sight-seers. The caverns are in close proximity, making it possible for tourists to include both caves on same trip.

It is not known what effect the new cavern will have upon the project to nationalize Mammoth Cave and make it a Federal reservation. Such a plan was proposed in a bill introduced in Congress six years ago, but during and since the war the project seems to have been lost sight of.

For a century Mammoth Cave has attracted sightseers from every part of the globe and the cavern has served to advertise Kentucky in the most remote nooks of the earth. Acquisition of the cave by the Federal Government and the installation of improvements to care for travels would serve to attract many more thousands of visitors annually. For years accommodations at the great cavern were neglected with the result that the number of visitors has been limited.

We should not turn down such a worthy cause. The Salvation Army does not turn down anyone. Read carefully the appeal. It is now that you can help relieve the suffering of many worthy poor persons.

It is a great cause, a blessing of the Lord to have such an organization as the Salvation Army.

GET YOUR CHRISTMAS STATIONERY NOW

About once a year most folks run out of stationery at Christmas time or just before, in which case the forward-looking ones "manage somehow," trusting to luck to find some on the Christmas tree. So, no matter to whom you give stationery it will not be amiss.

It is very popular nowadays to have one's name and address printed on letters and envelopes. In fact, the Postoffice Department at Washington has rather insisted that this should be done, as a matter of precaution. Makes a useful gift and is attractive and welcome. We have a large number of styles to select from. Just jot down the number of persons who would be delighted to have a gift of this kind. Then come here and you will find that you can remember everyone of them at a surprisingly small cost.

NEW EFFICIENCY BOARD COMMISSIONERS

At a meeting of the State Efficiency Commission, held in Frankfort Saturday, Catesby Spears, of Paris, was elected chairman, and Gabe Wharton, of Springfield, secretary. State Senator Henry S. Caywood, of North Middletown, who backed the bill in the Senate, was also present at the meeting.

According to Mr. Spears, activities of the Efficiency Commission, which was appointed by the Governor to put the State of Kentucky on a business basis, will in all probability be extended to every county in the State before the work is completed. All members of the Commission expressed a willingness to get at the bottom of affairs in Kentucky, and will make such recommendations as will, in their opinion, place the State on a business basis, and keep it there. The next meeting of the Commission will be held in Frankfort on December 21.

During the interval the members will make an extensive study of the State's needs and outline the work to be undertaken by the body. At this meeting it is expected that a contract will be given to some auditing and efficiency company, as the detailed work of the investigation will be handled by some recognized concern of this character.

"BUSINESS MAN FOR GOVERNOR"

There is a movement of considerable proportions, assuming shape throughout the State, not confined to one party, but affecting both dominant political parties, to eliminate radical professional politicians from the parties' choice as candidates for the office of Governor. This is made necessary if the people hope to see the tax burden reduced, and anything accomplished to put Kentucky where she rightfully belongs.

And in this connection, the people must have a careful regard as to whom they select as State representatives. With our State debt continuing to mount to higher levels and taxes being increased from year to year, it behooves all taxpayers and good citizens who are interested in a better future to band together and demand a better deal. There has been entirely too much partyism and partisanship, and not enough statesmanship, exhibited by our official family in Frankfort for many years, and it will not cease unless the people demand otherwise.

ADVANTAGES IN OWNING TREASURY CERTIFICATES

1. Treasury saving certificates are backed by the credit of the United States government and are one of the soundest investments in the world to-day.

2. Issued in denominations within the reach of all. A $25 certificate costs only $20.50; a $100 certificate $82; a $1,000 certificate $820.

3. Any one person, including each member of a family, may buy up to $5,000 maturity value of any one series.

4. At present prices treasury certificates earn about 4 per cent per year, compounded semi-annually, if held to maturity. Each certificate matures five years from date of issue.

5. The certificates may be cashed before maturity, and you then receive about 3 per cent, simple interest.

6. The certificates are exempt from the normal Federal income tax and from all State and local taxation (except estate and inheritance taxes.)

Don't spend any time with wild-cat stock salesmen; consult your banker and he will cheerfully advise you as to your best interest.

OLD COUNTRY HAMS

SHOOTING ACCIDENTS

The fall hunting season has led to the usual number of shooting accidents. The people who "didn't know it was loaded," those who trip over their weapons in climbing fences, those who fire at moving bushes thinking it was a deer, have been heard from as usual. A fatality happening from such a cause is peculiarly distressing, as those who are left behind always feel that it was utterly needless.

The experienced sportsman treats his weapon with a great deal of respect, because he knows its dangerous possibilities and its capacity for doing the unexpected. Too many families allow their boys to use firearms without any instruction in the use of the same.

MAIL DOOR SLOT OR RECEPTACLES

The Postoffice Department is well pleased with the general response of citizens to the request that all business houses and residences be equipped with mail boxes or door slots for the reception of mail, in order to assist the carriers. Postmaster J. Walter Payne recently received the following official notice from the Department over the signature of First Assistant Postmaster-General John H. Bartlett:

"Reports which come to us from all over the country indicate that the occupants of dwelling houses are co-operating with the Department in making provision for mail receptacles, either in the form of a slot in the door or a letter box.

"The notice of the Department with reference to the matter, issued August 25, 1922, contemplated that January 1, 1923, would give a reasonable time within which to provide such receptacles, and that there may be exceptional cases where the postmasters should use reasonable discretion or ask for instructions.

"While no specific form of a letter box is required and while a door slot is preferable, yet communications from manufacturers of letter boxes indicate that they are unable to fill their orders before January 1, due to the great and unusual demand.

"In all cases where postmasters find that patrons are delayed on account of their inability to secure boxes or to have door slots made, they are authorized to extend this time to such length as to them seems reasonable, but not later than March 1, 1923.

"This notice is in nowise to be construed as a waiver of the requirement nor as any relaxation of determination to enforce the same, but is issued wholly to make certain that all have a reasonable time within which to comply with its requirements."

A PLEA FOR THE RED CROSS SEALS

The fact that deaths from tuberculosis in Kentucky were reduced from 3,982 in 1919 and 3,705 in 1920 to 3,197 in 1921, as shown by recently announced figures of the Census Bureau at Washington, is due, according to Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer, to the physical education that Kentuckians gradually are acquiring, to the work that has been and is being done by public health nurses and to the near elimination of tubercular cattle.

"The work of educating the citizens of the State along physical lines gradually is going forward," Dr. McCormack said, "and as it goes forward the toll of the 'Great White Plague' naturally will be reduced. So with the elimination of tubercular cattle. The Federal authorities and the Bureau of Foods Drugs and Hotels of the State Board of Health are making every effort to free Kentucky of diseased animals, and as success attends their efforts fewer and fewer persons will acquire tuberculosis.

"So far as public health nurses are concerned, there isn't a county that has one that does not realize the value of the work that these women are doing in reducing the number of consumptive victims. Their work deserves particular mention at this time of the year because they are supported in part by the Christmas seals which the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association now has on sale. The nature of their work, too, is such that the public should express approval of it by liberal purchases of these seals."

STRANGE MONSTER SCARCE

The discovery of a bear at large has created consternation in the rural section of Fayette county, and a round-up is planned to get rid of the beast. Whether the animal escaped from some menagerie, or is one of the few said to be left in the mountain fastnesses, is not known, but the frightened residents are less interested in the bear's antecedents than they are in getting rid of him.

At one time much excitement was created in another county by the alleged depredations of a strange animal that was said to prey upon cattle, hogs and sheep. Persons who claimed to have seen the strange animal gave vivid descriptions of the "whatisit," as it got to be known. Several expeditions were organized to run down the "whatisit," but no trace was found.

Some years ago continued depredations upon livestock were traced to a pack of "wild dogs," that apparently had strayed into the hills from time to time and reverted to savage type. These were rounded up and dispatched, much to the relief of the community.

For a time a Southern Kentucky county was terrorized by what came to be called the "dogeater." The "beast" was credited with preying only upon dogs, and many claimed to have lost their canines in trying to track the "dogeater."

DANVILLE MAN HEADS ASSESSMENT COMMITTEE

J. L. Smith of Danville, was selected by the State Tax Commission to head a group for the study of Kentucky coal and mineral lands with a view to a uniform assessment. Three other men probably will be appointed later according to Rainey T. Wells, chairman of the commission.

Mr. Smith, who is a native of Harlan county, was engaged in buying and selling coal and timber lands for many years. He recently retired and bought a farm in Boyle county, where he now lives. He is thoroughly familiar with the coal lands of Eastern and Southeastern Kentucky, according to Mr. Wells.

The 1922 general assessment appropriated $20,000 annually for two years to be used in making a survey of the coal and mineral lands of the State so that the State Tax Commission could arrive at an equitable assessment. A conference of coal operators recently was held in Frankfort in connection with the work.

A child that is terribly deficient in brain power was born recently in North Dakota. The fond parents hope to make a politician of him.

COULDN'T GET IN

How a Kentucky Senatorial appointee failed to be admitted was recalled when Mrs. Felton was seated in the United States Senate for a day as a representative from Georgia. In the light of the Kentucky precedent the Senators may have strained a point through gallantry.

When the regular session of the 1896 Legislature adjourned without electing a successor to Senator J. Q. S. Blackburn, Governor Bradley appointed Maj. A. T. Wood of Mt. Sterling, United States Senator. Armed with a commission, Major Wood proceeded to Washington, but got no further than the door of the Senate Chamber.

The Senate acted adversely upon his claim to a seat and he returned to Kentucky.

Major Wood's chargin over his failure to obtain the seat was accentuated when his political enemies persisted in referring to him as a "near-Senator."

THE BOURBON NEWS.

LAST OUTLAW HAVEN

There are a few places in the United States that a fugitive with a price upon his head can remain at large and defy arrest. Breathitt county is one of them. For over six months the three Nobles, a father and two sons, have evaded capture, and whether they ever will be rounded up to answer murder charge seems problematical.

Breathitt county is crossed by a forty-mile stretch of railroad, yet in its fastnesses, if once gained, men may remain for an indefinite time in comparative security from the law. A company of State militia was unable to apprehend the Nobles after they had gained the Breathitt mountains and their capture is doubtful.

According to the ethics of the mountains a fugitive is practically safe from arrest and not likely to be molested as long as he does not cross the path of another clansman, in which event he may as well surrender to the authorities, as betrayal prompted by vengeance is certain. As long as the Nobles get along harmoniously with those aware of their hiding place they may reasonably count upon evading capture, but any breach is apt to lead the law officers direct to their mountain rendezvous.

BOOK ADVERTISING HERE BUNK?

Book publishers who devote their lives to saying nice things about other people, recently got a hard knock from Frank Swinnerton, who is an author himself, and incidentally a publisher. Frank says that advertising is done simply to tickle the author's vanity. We had always imagined that advertising was destined to sell books. But Swinnerton has more to say—in brief, advertising is bunk, and it does not sell books.

In a way Mr. Swinnerton is right. The ideas of the average book publisher about advertising are pathetic; the results he gets as compared with what is done with automobiles, tooth paste, hair tonic, or silk stockings, are about as impressive as a third grade school boy doing long division. Most book advertisers are twenty years behind the times. Only a few publishers advertise intelligently and they are adding wider audiences. There was a time several years ago when James Oliver Curwood was lucky when he sold 10,000 copies of his books. Peter B. Kyne once looked with awe at the 10,000 mark. To-day Curwood's stories of the Northwest and Kyne's portraits of American character run well over the 100,000 mark. Of course they write better. But their great audiences have been made for them by unknown hands and heads which conceived and executed skillful merchandising campaigns—and created real advertising. This is true of other writers as well. Advertising has played a large part in the success of the Five-foot shelf, the sets of Stevenson, Conan Doyle, Mark Twain, Oscar Wilde, and others too numerous to mention.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

City Sheriff Harry Blake, of Cincinnati, has announced that during the holiday season or until January 5, he will not be a party to ejecting any widows or orphans from their homes because of inability to pay rent; neither will he aid in garnishing the wages of workmen, or in making any forced collections. Further he declared that during the holidays he will not receive replevin, ejectment or garnishee suits.

THE BIBLE AND ITS PLACE IN LIFE

(By Rev. George Henry Dole, of Wilmington)

"The Lord gave the Word; great was the company of those that publish it."—Psalm 68, V. 11.

The Bible many times calls itself the Word of God. although there are always some who doubt that the Bible is the Word of God. They point to contradictions and impossibilities in the letter of the Word, "that the Lord gets angry," and "that He is always the same," and "that the world was made in six days." From mere surface appearances the Bible does not seem to be from God. Yet there is a point of view from which it can be seen that "The Word is true from the beginning, and every one of thy righteous judgments endureth forever." The Bible must be read from the standpoint of its purpose. When the Bible is understood it is found to be just the kind of a book that God would prepare. The Bible intention is not to teach geology, astronomy or history. "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." That is the proof of the Word! Does it furnish unto all good works?

The truth is not the accuracy of the Bible history, although it is mostly true literal fact. It, as is sometimes claimed, the Jews were never in Egypt, the providence of God over the Jews was just and merciful, fully revealing His divine nature. Admit there was no "Prodigal Son" the story reveals the unfailing love of God. The Word is giving for its Spirit and not for its letter. Read it to catch the spirit; then the Heavenly light will illumine the mind. The Word is not given for those who would profane it. The Lord gives no holy things to dogs, not casts treasures before truth to those who desire to profane it would make them more sinful than before. Precious gems and rare metals are hidden in the earth. Those who strongly desire them will dig for them. So are the truths of the Word. They are largely hidden in the letter of the Word. Those who love them will dig for them. Our Lord said, "Search the scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life; and they are they which testify of me."

The Word is like a diamond. Diamonds are discovered in a matrix which must be removed and the diamond cut. Only then the inluminous light shines with brilliant colors and dazzling brightness. The historical story and parable letter of the Word are its matrix. Press deeply the spirit within that letter and the truths of Scripture will shine like cut diamonds with brilliant light of illumination from God. The print and material book does not shine, but the precepts of the Word held in the mind do shine. They shine into the difficult problems of life and explain them. They flash on the upper pathway to righteousness. Artists depict the Bible as shining gold and penetrating rays.

The diamond cutter works with skill and follows the laws of refraction. Expert cutting makes the diamond more valuable and brilliant. The rule for making the truths of the Word brilliant is so simple and easy that anyone can do it. There is only one rule. If we live daily according to its teachings the Word proves itself. It is this simple rule which was followed by the Christ. He lived the Christ. He lived the Word, fulfilled its teachings, and proved its power. By the Word lived, He overcame every temptation. He overcame sin, sorrow, death; He won eternal victory. It was He who gave the rule which anyone can try and prove, "he that doeth the truth cometh to the light."

Island Brings Bride Luck. A romantic superstition has earned for Norfolk Island, in the Pacific ocean, the nickname of "Honeymoon Island." It is believed that a bride who spends her first month of married life there will be assured of long life, health, wealth and happiness.

Foolish Superstition. In "ye olden days" in England some simple-minded folk believed that swans could hatch their eggs only in a thunderstorm—that is, it required a crack of thunder to crack open the egg of a swan.

USE THE WASTE BASKET

Paris citizens sometimes find in their mail a mysterious "chain letter," usually one containing a special prayer for happiness or good luck, or sometimes equally as foolish, and along with it a threat that bad luck will pursue them if they don't write a similar letter to three of their acquaintances. In other words, they are threatened with dire things if they "break the chain."

This nuisance has been stirred up again in this country, and Uncle Sam has sent out a warning to pay absolutely no attention to such letters. They usually spring from the mind of some thoughtless, irresponsible busybody who hasn't sense enough to know that unless the chain was broken there isn't enough men in the postal service to handle this class of foolish letters and nothing else.

Don't be skeptical enough to give the "chain letter" a second thought. Drop it in the waste basket, and if you haven't a waste basket the stove will do just as well.

COTTON GOOD CROP

Kentucky is not rated as a cotton producing State, but it has one county that grows the staple on a rather pretentious scale. Fulton county, the southwestern corner of Kentucky, not only produces cotton on a paying scale, but the quality ranks high.

Some years ago an experiment in cotton growing showed that it could be made profitable. Since then some of the largest landowners have put in extensive cotton crops, and with the recent high price of cotton have realized handsomely on their venture.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen are "at home" to their friends at 219 East High street, Lexington.

HASKINS—ALFREY

—A romance which began while the bride was a student at school culminated in a marriage in this city on Tuesday of last week, in which the principals were both Mt. Sterling people, Miss Linnie Haskins and Mr. Orville Alfrey.

Miss Haskins, who had been a student at St. Agatha's Academy, in Winchester, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John McCord, both of Winchester, and Mr. Alfrey, motored to Paris, where the marriage was solemnized at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Christian church.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Alfrey returned to Winchester, where the bride again returned to her school. The bride's sister, Mrs. Clifton McCormick, of Mt. Sterling, went to Winchester, and persuaded her sister to give up her classes and return to Mt. Sterling.

Mrs. Alfrey is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Haskins, of near Mt. Sterling, and is a very accomplished and attractive young woman. The groom is a son of William Alfrey, is a member of the firm of Cockrell & Alfrey, and is at present an employee in the Mt. Sterling postoffice.

Son, emulate the camel, and get a hump on yourself!

In America the Federal Council of Churches is co-operating with the American branch of World Alliance.

BIG CASH SALE CONTINUES

We have almost everything a farmer needs, and are selling many articles for less than the wholesale cost. We had two opportunities to sell the store as a whole last week, but had too much stock. Every purchase you make in any kind of machinery, wagons, buggies, harness, stoves, hardware, fence, staples, nails, plow points, rope and most anything you will need will save you from 10% to 35%. Don't let this good opportunity slip. We think it will be only a short time until we sell the store as a whole. (1) FARMERS SUPPLY CO.

Mr. and Mrs. Spears are busy receiving and acknowledging congratulations. Mrs. Spears was before her marriage Miss Sallie Lockhart, daughter of Mrs. E. F. Clay, of Paris. The little one has been named Sallie Woodford Spears.
